

MAKE RPL PART OF YOUR HOLIDAY TRADITION!

Rangeley Public Library

DECEMBER 2017 NEWSLETTER

Dear Patron,

It's that time of year again when many of us are busy searching for the perfect gift for our friends and family. The popular gifts change a little over time, but one of the gifts which never seems to go out of style is a good book. I remember when I was a child of upper elementary or even junior high age, I would always make a list for my grandparents telling them which books in the Trixie Belden mystery series I already owned, so that they would be sure to buy me a new book in this favorite series. These books were not great literature by any stretch of the imagination, but I loved them and they taught me the pleasure of getting lost for hours in a book.

If you have book lovers or hopefully soon-to-be book lovers on your gift-giving list, don't forget to stop by the library's annual holiday book sale which runs from now until the New Year. Each year, we save books which look like they just came from Books, Lines & Thinkers, and sell them at incredible bargains for our patrons to give to those special people on their gift-giving list. We also have many other items on sale such as warm fleece jackets, hats with stylish moose motifs, limited edition prints by artists Herbie Welch and William Wegman, a great selection of wooden bookmarks, and more!

Whatever you are doing this holiday season, we hope you will have time to borrow a good book at the library. Getting lost in a book is a pleasure that can be enjoyed at any age, and without cost if one owns a library card. Find your Trixie Belden today!
